

How has Music Affected your Life?

This project will describe the various ways in which music can produce a range of different emotions and feelings within the individual. Listening stations will be set up where the public can sample different genres of music and then describe their listening experience for each genre. Also, a model guitar will be on display playing a wide variety of international music.