

How Does The Moon Affect Us?

Students were compelled to learn about the different phases of the moon. This interest developed after research on the myth of werewolves. Students learned about the geological make-up of the moon, the different lunar cycles, and how these activities actually affect human activity.

Visitors will learn about the lunar cycles through a variety of displays and interactives.