

What does music do to us?

Certain music triggers different parts of brain. We will show people how sound waves work on a modified computer screen, and what our voices look like in the form of a sound wave. We will have different types of music showing how it affects our emotions and blood pressure as well. Instruments and electronic music playing will demonstrate how music comes together and what it does to us.