

Why do we need clean water to live?

Why should people come to our booth? Well for starters, our interactive activity is very interesting and has to do with looking inside our schools very own microscope and everybody gets to see what's really floating around in our water we drink. Is it safe? You'll have to come and find out! We also have the answer to why we need to have water to live. There are some obvious answers, yes, but there are other key things that people don't know about why water helps us survive. Did you know that our body is 60% water? If you didn't, now you do! We also have interesting facts about what kind of water we should and shouldn't drink and why we shouldn't drink it. Hopefully everyone will come to our group and find out because we have the answers!
